Something for Mothers to Think About

EVERY CHILD born into the world with an inherited or early developed tendency to distressing, disfiguring humours of the skin, scalp, and blood, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering but because of the dreadful fear that the disfiguration is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest, and most effective treatment available, viz., THE CUTICURA TREATMENT.

Warm baths with Cuticura SQAP, to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, gentle anointings with CUTICURA OINT-MENT, to instantly allay itching, Irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, to be followed in the severer cases by mild doses of CUTICURA RESOI-VENT PILLS (see below), to cool and cleanse the blood, are all that can be desired for the alleviation of the suffering of skin-tortured infants and cillidren and the comfort of worn-out, worried mothers. A single set is often sufficient to cure when the best physicians fail.

Millions of Women Use Cuticura Soap Assisted by Cuticuma-Cintumner, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleaning the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandens, and the stopping of falling hair, for safeting, whitening, and southing red, rough, and some hands, for baby rashes, itchings, and changes, in the form of baths for annoying initations and inflammations, or too free and changes, in the form of was 'un for observative weaknesses, and for many or offendive perspiration, in the form of was 'un for observative weaknesses, and for many shantive, antiseptic purposes which readily, suggest the medices to women, especially mothers, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT PILLS (Chocolate Contest) are purposed to meet the wants of delicate women, and sensitive children, and are juste, sweet, and tasteless. They are beyond question the most successful blood parifiers and burnour cures yet compounded. CUTICURA REMEDIES are sold throughout the weild. Australian Depot: R. Towns & Co., Sydney. Extraordinary Conversions.

THE WELSH REVIVALISTS

Not since the memorable meetings at Loughor have there been such demonstrations of emotion and enthusiasm as characterised recent services in Songhonydd. Three or four chapels were crowded simultaneously, and the services held therein continued into the early hours of the morning. One gathering, in fact, did not disperse until it was time for some of the men to go to their work-six o'clock-and then it was only with great reluctance that they separated. At that meeting special prayers were offered on behalf of a certain character notorious in the district, his wife being one of the suppliants. The congregation went into ecatasies of joy in the early morning on seeing that very man entering the building. He was in a somewhat dishevelled state, a portion of his night attire peeping out above the collar of his coat. In passionate language he declared that he could not sleep, that he was compelled to get up, to rush to the meeting, and confess himself a convert. Encouraged by this, the congregation montioned the names of two other delinquents in their prayers, and as the hours were on these identical mon put in an appearance. Againthe multitude sang exultantly.

Leaving Caerphilly alive from end to end, the Revivalists met there at midday. and went to Senghenydd. Meetings of exceptional size, duration, and onthusiasm were held continuously from half-past ten in the morning, and the Revival was the one topic of conversation, every other matter for the time being having sunk into Insignificance. The streets presented a deserted appearance, and shops and publichouses were doing no business—everybody was at chapel.

THE WINE HARVEST IN FRANCE.

Paris, Jan. 6.-M. Jacquet, of the Revue Vinicole, has just completed his annual estimate of the wine harvest in France. He calculates that the yield amounts to 66,000,000 of hectolitres (the hectolitres is equivalent to 22 igallons), or 31,000,000 hectolitres more than last year. To this total must be added the product of the Algerian vineyards, another 6,000,000. This excellent result is due, to a great extent, to the atmospheric conditions, which have invariably favoured the normal evolution of the vine. It would, says M. Jaquet, have been almost impossible to have had a finer harvest. Nearly everywhere the yield excoeded the most eanguine estimates. The quality is gonerally above the sverage for grands crus and the wines inade from grapes grown on the hill sides. It does not come up to expectation in the case of wines made from grapes grown in the plains, whilst some of the small wines and the yields of certain Southern regions are only middling. It is believed that the alcoholic strength of the 1904 wines will be from one to two degrees higher than that in 1903. Finally, it may be noted that in several departments the hectare of land (about two and a-half acres) produced as much as between 300 and 400 hectolitres, of wine. Another notable feature in connection with this record year CONTAINING over 2,000 pages of con- is that practically every Department show. U densed commercial matter, enables ed an increase over last year's harvestenterprising traders throughout the Empire to keep in close touch with the trade of the In the Hérault Department it reached Motherland. Besides being a complete 12,000,000 hectolitres; the Aude, 6,000,000; commercial guide to London and its Sub-Gironde, 4,000,000; and even in Meurthe urbs, the London Directory contains lists et Moselle there was an increase of 1.000,000 hectolitres.

Only in 1875 and 1900 has this year's total of 66,000,000 hectolitres been exceeded. In the former year the harvest totalled 83,000,060 hectolitres, and in the latter 67,000,000. Notwithstanding this enormous annual production, for the past six years the consumption has exceeded the output by over 20,000,000 hectolitres. warded, freight paid, on receipt of Post Office Order for £1.

A CASE FROM THE MAINLAND.

An Alleged Notorious Character.

As a sequel to one of the numerous armed robberies that have recently been reported from China, Ta Fa Min, a man with several aliases, camo before Mr H. H. J Compertz, at the Magistracy, this morning, at the instance of the Chinese Government, who sought his extradition on charges of murder and armed robbery in the Pik Tong village, in the Kwangtung Province. Mr H. E. Pollock, K. C., instructed by Mr. Harding, appeared for the presecution, and Mr John Hastings for the accused.

Mr Pollock, in opening the case, said that the facts as they would be gi. ven in evidence were that on October 2, last year, at about 11 p.m. a gang of robbers broke into the family house of two brothers, surnamed So. The house was occupied by these men, together with their wives and two servant girls. The latter were sleeping in a room off a passage leading from the street door. When the robbers first came to the door they woke the inmates and the brothers heard the sound of two revolver shots. Eight or ten men then rushed into the house, armed with revolvers and swords and some them carrying terches.

The robbers, after firing the shots, burst into one of the brothers' rooms and, having dragged him out of bed, the prisoner caught him by the arm and, pointing a revolver at him, asked him where his money was. He replied that he had no money and the pri- member. soner struck him on the shin with the butt of his revolver and then took his keys, and, Governor may from time to time deter- Scottish King, late Jetsam, was not leaving one of the men to guard their pri- mine. soner, the rest of the robbers searched the house and took $340 in silver, jewellery valued at $300, clothing valued at $120 The robbers then visited the other brother's room.
